CALL COOLIDGE TO AID HOOVER IN CAMPAIGN

Will Ask Him To Wield "Big Stick" To Settle Internal Difficulties

TO GIVE THREE TALKS

C. O. P. Leaders Believe President Powerful Influence in Stopping Smith

Washington, July 30.—The political sagacity of President Calvin Coolidge, which has carried him triumphantly through a score of battles of the ballot, will be invoked by Republican campaign chiefs when the campaign reaches its height early in the fall, it was learned here today.

The president's offer to aid Herbert Hoover in his struggle to reach the White House will be accepted not only in calling upon him for speeches but also in the strategy of the fight.

With this situation arising, the president will find himself in the role of adviser to Hoover and National Chairman Work, both of whom have equipped positions of advisers to the president in their long cabinet service.

Three speeches are expected to be made by Mr. Coolidge during the campaign, one in the middle west, one in the east, probably New York, and one in the south.

They are regarded by political leaders as the key to the acceptance of Hoover which is to become the Republican "campaign bible."

Reports given to national headquarters by politicians from all parts of the country have convinced leaders that Mr. Coolidge's prestige is undiminished, and, in fact, has grown since his virtual declaration of the nomination for another term.

He is expected by them to prove a powerful influence in check-mating the plans of Gov. Alfred E. Smith and Democratic Chairman John J. Rankin to win both the business and the farm vote from the Republican party.

Political leaders from the farm belt are anxious to see Mr. Coolidge still in the saddle, and Mr. Coolidge still is popular with the farmer despite his veto of the Mc-

PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX RETURNS SHOW GENERAL DECREASE

Total Valuation in Marion County Drops Approximately Million and Half Dollars This Year, Figures at Auditor's Office Show; Number of Returns Also Slumps

Practically all items listed in personal property tax returns made in Marion county this year show a decrease under 1927, according to a report completed today in the office of the county auditor, Earl E. Thomas.

To begin with, the number of individuals making returns decreased from 10,407 in 1927 to 9,974 this year. The number of corporations, however, show an increase from 165 to 169.

The county stands to lose tax on personal property valued at more than a million and a half dollars this year as a result of the decrease in the amount of property returned.

Personal property returns of individuals show a drop of $611,700 or from $9,665,400 in 1927 to $9,053,700 in 1928. Personal property returns of corporations show a still greater decrease, the decline this year being $1,080,110. The corporations' returns for 1927 were $5,813,540. This year the total was $4,733,430. These figures include only taxable personal property of Marion county individuals and corporations.

If nontaxable property is included, personal property in the county is valued at $14,724,850. Of this $9,981,400 was returned by individuals and $4,743,450 by corporations. Statutory exemptions, however, reduce taxable personal property of individuals by $307,500.

Money in the possession of the 9,974 individuals who made personal property returns last spring amounted to $2,046,080. This figure dropped from $2,108,630 during the year. Corporations reported taxable money this year at $431,690. In 1927 the figure was $572,010.

Listed under the head of "other personal property" were returns of $208,120 for individuals and $13,550 for corporations for 1928. Returns of individuals under this heading decreased more than half during the year, the total for 1927 being $577,310. The 1927 figure for corporations was $15,230.

The largest increase discovered in the personal property reports was in the value of merchandise, consisting chiefly of stocks of goods in retail stores. Individuals more than doubled the value of their stocks during the year, the increase being from $250,310 in 1927 to $617,540 in 1928. Corporations increased their merchandise stocks from $1,043,840 in 1927 to $1,089,940 this year.

After deducting bona-fide debts, corporations had credits totaling $600,170. The year preceding the credits of corporations amounted to $1,645,300. Credits of individuals also showed a decrease this year, the decrease being from $1,538,240 to $1,248,420.

NOTE DECREASE IN WEEK-END DEATHS

Delaware Youth Electrocuted at Media by High Tension Wire

By International News Service
Although lately skies and cool, bracing weather lured thousands of Ohio motorists to the highway over the week-end, a marked decrease in fatalities was noted over the usual toll exacted in such periods.

Stenhouseville, Howard Sparagore, 19, of Old Washington, was killed when the roadster he was driving, plunged into a creek at Brilliant, seven miles south of here. Three other occupants of the car were injured, one probably fatally.

NINE INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE MISHAPS HERE

Boy Run Over on Prospect St. Reported To Be in Serious Condition

FOUR CARS DAMAGED

Six Marion Residents Hurt. One Seriously, in Crash at Brush Ridge

Nine persons were injured and four automobiles damaged in traffic accidents occurring in and near Marion Saturday night and Sunday.

Lamar Bonnette, seventy-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bonnette, 621 Trevelyan, is believed to be the most seriously injured of the accident victims. The full extent of his injuries has not been determined, a report from his home stated today.

The boy was run over last night when struck by a machine while he was attempting to cross South Prospect st. at McKinley park.

The accident occurred about 8:15 o'clock when the boy, his mother and baby sister, Joan, and members of a neighbor family started to cross the street.

Not noticing the car approaching from the south, the boy ran directly in its path. The car, a Ford touring, was driven by Walter McKelroy, Copeland av., who was accompanied by Francis Anderson.

The driver stopped and carried the boy into a nearby home, where he was given medical aid and later taken to his home.

Samuel Cooper, 5, is reported to be in a serious condition at his home in Bucyrus as the result of injuries sustained in an accident similar to the one in which the Bonnette boy was hurt. The Bucyrus youngster sustained a fractured skull when hit by an auto as he was crossing a street near his home.

Mr. Wilford Higgins, 1022 Bennett st., sustained internal injuries, he is believed to be serious, and her husband and four small sons received cuts and bruises in an automobile collision about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the intersection of five roads at Brush Ridge.

Jack Higgins, aged 4, youngest of the four Higgins children, sustaining injuries to his left foot. The wound was not so serious for possible fracture of the bone today.

The accident occurred when the Higgins car, a Chevrolet sedan, was struck by a Dodge sedan driven by a man giving his name as Mr. Lee of Vanlue. O. The latter car hit the Higgins machine.

About Their Wives

Mrs. Alfred E. Smith and Mrs. Herbert C. Hoover Are Real Aspirants for Post of White House Mistress

Mrs. Smith (left) and Mrs. Hoover (right).

WASHINGTON, July 30.—While Herbert Hoover hibernates in his beautiful Palo Alto, Cal., home, awaiting official notification of his selection as Republican standard bearer, and Gov. Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic nominee, sticks to his knitting in the state house at Albany, a new—and curiously disturbing—factor has arisen to plague the political wiseacres.

Briefly, it is the discovery that the wives of the candidates are rival aspirants for the position of mistress of the White House in about as real a sense as their husbands are rivals for the presidency.

That is to say, bits of notes will be sent to Mr. Hoover or Mr. Governor Smith, in accordance with the voters' personal preference for Mrs. Hoover or Mrs. Smith, rather than in accordance with any particular preference as between the official nominees of the Republican and Democratic conventions.

You can hear Mrs. Hoover's and Mrs. Smith's personalities contrasted with one another as a definitely recognized campaign issue at any gathering of women. To "mere men" it seems a queer way of arriving at a conclusion concerning a candidate's fitness for the presidency; perhaps the girls consider their menfolk equally ridiculous in their adulatory-plaster relation to mere politics.

The fact that the charming wife of the Democratic nominee used to "do her own work" is both an asset and a liability to her husband's campaign. Many of the fair voters are outspoken in their praise for her as a helpmate and a candidate for mistress of the White House; others frown upon her culture and accomplishments. Likewise the cultured wife of Nominee Hoover, to many of her sisters, she is regarded as the ideal personality for mistress of the White House, and they speak with bated breath of her social triumphs abroad. Still others seem to resent the suggestion of "superiority," although it is never phrased in just that way.

Wykoff Finishes in Fourth Place to Climax Poor Day For Athletes of America

United States Holds 18-Point Lead After First Day's Matches Are Run Off; Showing of Team Bad in Track and Field Trials

Olympic Stadium, Amsterdam, July 30.—One of America's most disastrous days in Olympic competition was climaxed this afternoon when Frank Wykoff, Glendale, Cal., schoolboy, could do no better than fourth in the 100-meter final while Bob McAllister, self-styled "man of destiny," was sixth and last. The race was won by Williams, of Canada, in 10.4 seconds, with London, the Englishman, second, and Lammer, the German, third.

American athletes made an impressive start yesterday by scoring 35 points in the opening events by winning two of the three run off. Finland took second place with 17 points. The other countries' scores were Sweden 8, Germany 3, and Great Britain 2.

John Buck of Boston set a new world's record of 22 feet 11.14 inches in winning the shot-put. Herman Bruns, University of Washington, was second, 21 feet eight inches; Paul Hunsbarger, Germany, third, 20 feet six inches; Eric Kron, Stanford university, fourth, 20 feet 3.14 inches.

BEGG PICTURES ONO WITH BAD TAX HEADACHE

Candidate for Governor Addresses Local Kiwanis-Rotary Meeting

SEES CRISIS AT HAND

Declares Industry and Agriculture Menaced by Situation in State

That Ohio has a "tax headache" as serious as that which is threatening the industrial crisis and that the Ohio farmer is dilly-dallying with his farm problems and can not stay out of bankruptcy for 10 years under present conditions, was the assertion of Congressman James T. Hogg, Sandusky, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, who addressed a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs at Harding Hotel at noon today.

"Do you know that the debt of Ohio today is practically as much as the entire Federal debt was before the war?" Hogg inquired of his audience. He expressed the belief that the great bulk of the state's economic ills are due to the oppressive tax situation.

"Taxes in Ohio have increased 70 per cent and the public debt more than 500 per cent within the last eight years," Hogg declared. "And while all this was going on what was happening in the Federal government? The Federal debt has been reduced more than a billion dollars each year. Federal taxes have been cut 60 per cent and credits have been returned to pay or better than 54."

Attaches Levy
Hogg laid wide open the six-tenths of a mill levy on real property which he termed "nothing more than a mortgage on your home and your life insurance policy" and he declared, "If I am elected governor there will never be any state 'tax on real property.'"

"The levy on farm property for road taxes is almost," Hogg said, "the only tax which commercializes the roads and use them should be made to bear this burden. No farmer in Ohio can pay from $2 to $4 per acre tax and dodge the landowners' courts for 10 years."

"What's happening to the money you people pay in taxes?" Hogg asked. Turn to Page 3

LEGION WOULD OUST TRUSTEES AT XENA

Claims Five Members of Opponents' Home Board Incompetent and Unable To Agree

Columbus, July 30.—State authorities today were informed that the Ohio legion committee of the American Legion of Ohio, at the meeting of the legion here Aug. 19 to 21, will recommend that the legion urge Gov. V. E. Davis to request the resignation of the five members of the board of trustees of the Ohio sailors and soldiers' orphan home at Xenia.

If such a recommendation is made, it will be based upon claims that the board generally is incapable and that its members are unable to agree upon matters of policy, it was stated.

Approximately 600 children of Ohio veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and the World wars are residents of the Xenia home.

The welfare committee, it was stated, will recommend that the residents of the home attend the public election of Xenia and that present educational course of the home be discontinued. The committee may advise that the entire board of the home be removed, or that the board be reduced to three members, or that the board be reconstituted and the election of the board be placed in the hands of the state election board.

PREDICTS CHAMP WILL NOT RETIRE

Walsh Says Gene May Leave Ring for Short Time Until Logical Contender and Good Drawing Card is Built Up by Tex Rickard

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, July 30.—Granting that Mr. Gene Tunney may announce—today, tomorrow or at such time as his fancy may dictate—that he has decided to withdraw himself from vulgar public scrutiny, I should say it is only fair to ask just when and exactly where we may expect him to begin active training again for a heavyweight championship fight. Originally, it was somebody else's guess that Tunney is planning to retire; today, and until further notice, it is mine, if he does, that he won't stay retired hereafter and forever.

Tunney has an unusually strong will and it places him uniquely to give it a free run and a long tether. For someone to persist in scoffing at his retirement would be tantamount to justifying this strange man to prove the doubter wrong. But if his rather perverse will is stronger than Mammon's suspenders, the time may come when it will find itself opposed by an emotion of even greater intensity: Tunney's secret pleasure in the elevated position he now occupies, the satisfaction experienced by a sensitive man in knowing that he is important—in brief, his status as an undisputed champion. Tunney lost to this.

Of course, championships are won and lost in the ring. But even the claims of a retired fighter are not protected by this unwritten code of honor. In time, these claims are outlawed. How is this time limit measured? It isn't. It is determined only by the character of the man who finally succeeds to the title. Witness Benny Leonard. No one now regards

FISH ALLOWS THREE BINGLES IN BATTLE WITH LEFTY BEELER

Manager Bacon Crashes Home Run Over Left Field Fence

RIZOR STRONG WITH BAT

Wooster College Flash Wild and Marion Obtains 10 Safe Hits

ALLOWING but three hits, Wilbur Fish outpitched the Wooster College Flash, Lefty Beeler, and the Marion Eagles defeated Lechner Motors of at Lincoln park Sunday afternoon in an airtight ball game, 5 to 1.

It was a pitchers' battle from start to finish but the wiliness of Beeler allowed the Eagles to gain most of their scores. Fish was effective throughout the contest, being backed by fine playing on the part of his teammates.

Shreve made his first run in the initial inning when he bunched two of his three hits. With two down Troutman singled through second and then moved up a base through a steal.

Burnett followed with a double against left field fence that scored the only run. During the balance of the game only 26 batters faced Fish and but two of them managed to get to first—one on a walk and the other a single.

Crowd Small
The contest was one of the finest exhibitions of ball at the local park this season and was played before the smallest crowd.

In spite of the fact that he allowed 16 hits, Beeler was very effective in the pinches using his strikeout ball to cause 11 Marion runners to die on bases. Two men were occupying the sacks in the first frame with only one down when the southpaw fanned the next two men up. In the second inning two men died in the same fashion. In the fifth inning he managed to fan Steinbeck with the bases loaded.

Pine tied the score at one all in the second inning after leading off with a double. Rizor, after slugging, was out attempting to steal second while Steinbeck fanned. Fish scored the run with a single over second base.

Bacon Starts Moving
Rizor started things moving in the fourth frame with his second hit of the contest. Steinbeck sacrificed him to second and a wild pop by Beeler allowed him to score. Rowan scored in the sixth to place the Eagles two runs to the good.

Two runs were scored in the eighth off Bacon's bounce over left field fence. One was down in this inning when Fish walked. The Marion pitcher was sacrificed to second by Rowan and scored ahead of Bacon on the four base blingle.

The hitting of Rizor was one of the high lights of the game. He obtained three hits out of four trips to the plate. Turn to Page 13

GIBSON SAYS GENE PLANS RETIREMENT

New York, July 30.—Gene Tunney, king of heavyweight fighters, will formally announce his retirement from the prize ring this week, according to his manager, Billy Gibson.

According to his associates, the champion will take up banking or industrial business after studying philosophy in English and German universities. Tunney himself has declined to confirm these reports and other rumors to the effect that he would marry, behead the South Pole with his friend, Commander Richard E. Byrd, or enter the priesthood.

COCHET WINS OVER BILL TILDEN; FRANCE RETAINS DAVIS CUP

French Tennis Star Clinches Trophy, Taking Match in Straight Sets

Holland Garros Stadium, Paris, July 30.—The Davis Cup stays in France at least another year.

Henri Cochet, good looking young French tennis star made that certain today by defeating "Big Bill" Tilden, America's ace, in straight sets by the scores of 6-7, 8-4 and 6-4.

This victory gave the French three matches out of the four already played and assuring them of victory.

It was the worst beating ever administered to the lanky American Davis Cup captain, hero of many years of competition, in a Davis cup match.

Tilden's grueling match against Lacoste last Friday, which the American won, and his hard play in the doubles match yesterday, which the Americans lost, told the story. Tilden was not in his usual brilliant form today although he put up a terrific little. Time after time the American drove out of court by several feet. He noted a great many balls at moments when a point would have meant a set victory.

Cochet was relentless. He coolly met every new piece of strategy devised by the American. Tilden mixed up his service, dropping over soft balls immediately after one of his cannon ball shots at Cochet's feet. In the midst of rallies Tilden tried to outfox the Frenchman by cutting one ball and then driving another but he seldom found Cochet off guard.

CLEVELAND TROUNCES CHAMPIONS 24 TO 6 AS HURLERS PARADE

Athletics Advance Within Six and One-Half Games of Leaders

RUTH STILL GOING

Cincinnati Reds Win Nine Out of Last 10 Starts

BY LES CONKLIN

NEW YORK, July 30.—The New York Yankees have cracked up, as we say at the hangar, and the panic is on in the camp of the world's champions. The Philadelphia Athletics have cut New York's lead in half during the past fortnight, reviving Connie Mack's dream of winning another pennant after 14 years in the wilderness. Climaxing a brilliant month, the Mackmen have captured their last six starts. During the past week the lead of the Yanks has been cut from 11 to 6½ games. In that time New York's pitching staff was riddled like a Swiss cheese and the supposedly invincible champions dropped seven games in 10 starts.

Muzzles Seeks New Hurler
Manager Miller Huggins was casting about desperately this morning for another veteran pitcher and uttering dire threats that eight members of the present New York ensemble would be cast adrift before next season. The straw that broke the midget's back was Cleveland's staggering 24 to 6 victory over the Yanks yesterday. The Indians massed five pitchers, including the brilliant Piggas, and amassed no less than 27 hits, only three of which were for extra bases. They scored 17 runs in the first two innings alone.

Luke Sewell and Hodapp got five hits each and Lind four. Twice Hodapp hit safely in the same inning. Babe Ruth, with four hits in as many times at bat, was the only Yankee on the job.

While the Yanks were taking their worst beating in history, the Athletics bombed over St. Louis, 8 to 3, Fox and Hase hitting homers. The A's would be in first place today if they had won half of their games with New York.

Reds Defeat Brooklyn
Zitman's fourth hit staked Cincinnati to a 6 to 5 decision over Brooklyn in the ninth, the Reds advancing to within four games of St. Louis. The Reds have topped nine of their last 10 starts, while the Cardinals were winning five out of seven.

Larry Boston of the Giants hung up his seventeenth victory of the season by winning a 4 to 3 duel from Peter Jones of the Cubs in 10 innings. Gus Rank outpitched Vic Aldridge and Mack Wilson contributed his twenty-fourth homer in the nightcap, which the Cubs won 3 to 1.

Favorable Reports on Motor Car Industries Focus Attention

EARLY GAINS WIPED OUT IN ACTIVE TRADE

Banks Make Renewed Withdrawals from Call Loan Market

G. M. AT NEW PEAK

Slumps Off, However, When Selling Pressure Becomes More Acute

BY W. S. SOUSINS

New York, July 30.—Early gains in the industrial speculative market were wiped out in fairly active trading today when the banks made renewed withdrawals from the call loan market, and the rate for speculation was moved up to six per cent.

Favorable reports and surveys from the motor car and other important industries served to focus speculative attention on stocks of the best-reputed firms. Dodge Brothers, Chrysler Motors, and other well-known names, as well as the probable consummation of the Chrysler-Dodge merger. General Motors, which had been in the market for some time, moved forward confidently in response to Baltimore dispatches indicating the probable consummation of the Chrysler-Dodge merger. Large Audience Hears Bishop

UNION MEETING IS HELD AT PAVILION

More Than 1,200 Persons Listen to Sermon of United Brethren Leader

CITES NATION'S NEED

Final Program of Chautauqua To Be Given Tuesday with Lecture by Ott

An audience of more than 1,200 persons nearly filled the chautauqua pavilion at Garfield park last night when Bishop A. R. Clippinger, of Dayton, a bishop of the United Brethren church, delivered the sermon at the Sunday meeting of the Marion county chautauqua. The meeting served as a scheduled feature of the chautauqua, also as the weekly union church service.

Bishop Clippinger, who took as the subject of his sermon, "The Christian's Relation to His God," declared the great need of America today is a God consciousness.

"It is only necessary to visit the busy thoroughfares of the city, to see the great masses who have turned from God," he said.

Vital Factor
The Christian's relation to his God is the hinge upon which all human activities turn, the speaker said.

"The attitude of the heathen toward his god is one of fear, while the attitude of the Christian toward his God should be one of love. The spirit which binds a Christian to his God should be one of adoption rather than bondage, a spirit of being adopted as one of the great family of God and brother of Jesus Christ, rather than a slave bound to a cruel master," Bishop Clippinger informed his audience.

A special musical program given by the Marion county chautauqua orchestra under the direction of L. B. McNeil preceded the sermon. A feature of the musical program was a duet, "Precious Hiding Place," by the Rev. and Mrs. Wiley S. Young, accompanied by Miss Grace Durfee, organist of Trinity Baptist church.

Concert Numbers
The concert opened with "March Militaire," by Schubert, followed by "Maiden's Prayer," by Mozart, "Melodie," Massenet, "Bohemian Girl," Balfe, and a march, "The Drum Major," by Ellis.

The Rev. George E. Groves, pastor of the Central Christian church, presided at the meeting and the speaker was introduced by the Rev. W. H. Howard, pastor of the local United Brethren church.

A large audience was entertained with a humorous lecture by Jess Pugh in the Saturday night chautauqua program. The lecture was preceded with a miscellaneous program by the Novelty Four Company. Both the miscellaneous program and the lecture were well given and thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

Final Program Tuesday
The final program of the chautauqua will be given Tuesday concluding what has been one of the most successful series of entertainments ever given here.

Today's entertainment includes concerts by the G. Magnus Schultz concert company and a lecture by Judge Fred G. Hale former head of the municipal court at Columbus. Judge Hale will speak tonight on the subject, "Tomorrow's Citizens Today."

Columbus, July 20.—Dr. A. F. Krumminger, 83, prominent Ohio dentist and former dean of the faculty at the Ohio State university here, died at his home in Los Angeles, Calif., Sunday morning, according to word reaching relatives here today.

OBITUARY

Christian Seiter son of Mr. and Mrs. John Seiter, was born in Pleasant township, south of Marion, Oct. 28th, 1844, died July 21, 1928. He was married March 26, 1871, to Elizabeth Altmendler and in March 1896 to Katherine Miller, following the death of his first wife. Early in life he was converted, at which time he united with the Zion M. E. Church near Marion. He has always lived a consistent Christian life. He was a kind true father and husband, always looking after the children's welfare, and especially was he interested in their spiritual condition. His advice was to all, he is ready. Fifty-four years ago Mr. Seiter moved to his life residence at which time he united with the Salem M. E. church, where he has always been an active member. Three weeks ago Mr. Seiter took sick, his sufferings at times were intense, but he was always patient. The death angel came Saturday morning at 12:50 o'clock and waited his ready, waiting spirit home. The word of God was fulfilled in his life when it says, "with long life I will satisfy him and show him my salvation." God blessed him to the ripe old age of 83 years. Mr. Seiter was the happy father of 10 children of which two have passed into the Great Beyond, also both of his wives have preceded him in death.

He leaves to mourn their loss five sons, Samuel A., John W., Frank W., Daniel H., and Edward A. Seiter, all of Agosta. Three daughters, Mrs. Mary Fritz, Mrs. Anna E. Hecker, of Agosta, and Mrs. Gertie Homberger, of Marion. He is survived by two brothers, William and Philip Seiter of Marion, and three sisters, Mrs. Daniel Seiter, Mrs. Pauline Martin and Mrs. Mary Ruch, all of Marion. He is also survived by 15 grandchildren.

Farwell, dear Father, sweet thy rest,
Weary with years, and worn with pain,
Farwell, till in some happy place
We shall behold thy face again.
Thine ours to miss thee, all our years,
And tender memories of thee keep
Thine in the Lord to rest, for so,
He giveth his beloved sleep.

In 1871 she was united in marriage to Samuel Cook who died in 1908. To this union were born four sons and eight daughters—two daughters and one son having preceded her in death. Mr. Thomas, who now survives.

The deceased was a member of the Greenwood Evangelical Church of this city. During her illness, which extended over a long period of time, she bore her suffering patiently, always trusting in Jesus and his loving care.

A wife first—then a mother second to none, she devoted an unselfish life to her husband and children—always thinking of their happiness.

So passeth on a soul of rare beauty. As a mother, sister or friend, her's was a mind unexcelled for beautiful thoughts until the end.

She leaves to mourn her loss a devoted husband, three sons, six daughters, forty-six grandchildren, thirty great grandchildren, four brothers and a host of other relatives and friends. Gone but not forgotten; living with in the hearts of all who knew her for ever and ever.

Meteorologist Defends Nobile's Conduct On Polar Expedition

SAYS GAS LEAKAGE CAUSE OF DISASTER

Leader Rescued First from Ice on Account of Light Weight

WOULD GO AGAIN

Czech Scientist Denies Quarrels Among Members of Party

Berlin, July 20.—Prof. F. Behounek, Czechoslovakian meteorologist, who was a member of the ill-fated Nobile expedition into the Arctic arrived here today, and stoutly defended the conduct of Gen. Umberto Nobile, leader of the polar voyage.

"General Nobile and I parted better comrades than ever," said Professor Behounek.

The meteorologist attributed the disaster on May 25 to an unexplained leakage of gas from the balloon. He said ice formations atop the balloon were not the cause.

"General Nobile was saved first from the ice because he was lightest in weight," explained Professor Behounek. "Two days before Arvid Lindberg's arrival on the ice General Nobile had been rescued in the following order: Cecconi, (who was injured), myself, Tisciani, Nobile, Vigliani and the wireless operator, Bingi. I was named second because I was known blind."

Nobile Hurt

"But it was found that Cecconi was too heavy for Lindberg's plane so Nobile was placed aboard by Lindberg's orders because he was the lightest and because he was wounded."

"There was a touching scene at the railway station when Behounek was met by his fiancée, Fudka Felix. After they had embraced Behounek turned again to the correspondents.

"I would go again with Nobile," he added. "If I am still single."

"Never again," put in his fiancée. The Czech scientist denied there had been any quarrels. He said the Rus-

Hoover Fishing For Steelhead Trout After 550-Mile Trip From Palo Alto

Nominee Up Early and Goes Out Alone in Rogue River

Medford, Ore., July 20.—After a 550-mile motor dash from his California home, Herbert Hoover today was placidly fishing for steelhead trout in the icy waters of the Rogue river, 10 miles northeast of here.

The Republican nominee stopped off to seek the gamester fish, while enroute to his favorite fishing grounds in the headwaters of the Klamath river, near Hornbrook, Calif. The nominee will move on this morning to the Klamath stream, high in the Siskiyou mountains.

A dozen members of the Hoover party, which included personal friends of the nominee, newspapermen and photographers, fished with him in the winding Rogue. Hoover was up with the dawn, pulling on waist-high rubber boots and went fishing alone.

Camp in Open

The nominee has declared frequently that solitude gives him his greatest joy. He said he had no mind to be disturbed by the party.

Parted Good Friends

"We all parted better comrades than ever," declared Behounek.

The scientist said that General Nobile and Prof. F. Behounek, the dead Swedish scientist, were on the most intimate terms. Malmgren, he said, left the Nobile party of his own volition. Speaking further of the Mariano-Zappi affair, Behounek said:

"The actions of Mariano and Zappi are hard to explain. Sitting here one would say 'I would not have left Malmgren to die.' But they faced a desperate situation. Things look different among the ice wastes. I do not know what I would have done."

Professor Behounek was one of the survivors of the Nobile expedition rescued by the Russian ice breaker Krusenstern.

on a fishing trip. He used a fly with a heavy line because the steelhead is one of the "fighting" fish on record, doing flips many feet out of the water when hooked.

Hoover brought his party here after a two-day motor ride from Palo Alto.

The nominee drove 200 miles up the California coast Saturday to Bull Creek where he camped in a forest of giant redwood trees. The party camped at night in the forest, ate dinner in a campfire, and slept on cots out in the open, beneath the skies.

Only One Mishap

The nominee arose at 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning, shaved himself, ate a ham and egg breakfast and carried his party another 200 miles up the coast and across several mountain ranges into Oregon. The route lay through primeval forests, past giant redwood groves, along hazardous one-way mountain trails and out among cliffs overlooking the Pacific. At one spot the trail hung along the face of a towering cliff a thousand feet above the Pacific ocean. A skid of two feet would have thrown the nominee's car catapulting into the ocean. His party however got an airplane view of the Pacific.

Young Allan Hoover, son of the nominee, was in one mishap. The car, in which he was riding with Dr. Alonzo Taylor, a Stanford professor, and two newspapermen, skidded on a road under construction and went into a ditch after giving the driver a scare. No one was injured. The car was hauled out of the ditch by a tractor at work on the road.

Hoover didn't learn of the mishap until the end of the day's run.

No Pic

The party lunched in another redwood grove at noon Sunday, eating a picnic luncheon beside a 2,000-year old tree that measured 65 feet around the base. Hoover ate sandwiches and sardines, drank cold coffee and water but refused pie. After lunch, Hoover took his party on a half-day mountain hike, called the "southern range" and into Oregon. Near Medford, he detoured to reach the fishing camp on the Rogue river.

behind Frank "Babe" Cahill, of Iowa, who was second to Lord Burghley, Taylor won the event at Paris in 1924.

Fuller Beats Peltzer

A few moments later, Earl Fuller, the Californian, served notice on the foreign field in the 800 metre semi-finals by outstriking Dr. Otto Peltzer, Germany, and Douglas Lowe, of England, the 1924 champion, to win his heat in 1:55 3/5. Peltzer, former world's record holder, was shut out.

Ray Watson, Illinois A. C. also got a place in the finals by finishing second to Hyphen, the Swede, in the second semi-final in the same time, 1:55 3/5. The German, Engelhard, was third in this heat. Watson seems to be running well within himself, apparently being satisfied to qualify.

Lloyd Hahn then electrified the gathering by giving one of his typical performances in winning the third semi-final in the clinking time of 1:52 3/5. Phil Edwards, the Canadian negro, was second, and Merapin Martin, who broke Hahn's world record in the French trials, was third.

The sprinting of the Americans in the 100-metre semi-finals was disappointing, outside of the performance of McAllister. Bracey never was formidable in the first semi-final, failing to get going at any time. Wyckoff, running in the same heat, contended strongly all the way but Hank Russell, of Cornell, failed signally.

Nary-Haugen bill and eastern visitors declare that he would be the most potent orator on the stump in that section.

Although Mr. Hoover, according to his advisers here, plans to wage a campaign strictly "on his own" he has been such a powerful influence in the Coolidge administration that its record must be carried to the people for endorsement. The Republican nominee, it is understood, will go farther than Mr. Coolidge has on the question of farm relief but in all other respects will adopt the administration policies as his own.

Settle Campaign Budget

While headquarters activities are being speeded up here this week, few decisions of importance in the conduct of the campaign are expected to be made until the return of Mr. Hoover in Washington and the return of the president in September.

Final settlement of the campaign budget, organization work in the women's campaign and further conferences by Chairman Work on the machinery of the committee were on the program for the week.

Columbia St. Collision

Failure to observe the stop sign was said by police this morning to have caused a wreck at the intersection of South Prospect and Columbia st. late Saturday night which resulted in W. C. Cooper, driver of a Ford truck belonging to Fred Bender, plumber, receiving injuries to his left shoulder.

According to the story told police, Mrs. Guy Stoner, East Center st., driving a Ford sedan, was driving east on Columbia st., and failing to observe the stop sign, drove across the intersection, colliding with the Ford truck, which was southbound.

Cooper was thrown against a tree by the force of the collision and in addition to injury to his shoulder and left arm, was badly bruised and cut. Mrs. Stoner was reported to have escaped with minor injuries, although her Ford sedan was wrecked. Cooper was taken to his home by a passing motorist. An x-ray of his shoulder was to be taken this afternoon to determine the extent of his injury.

stocks and bonds this year over 1927 is shown in the report of individuals. In 1927 the returns showed that individuals had $12,450 invested in this manner. This year the total is $11,200. The investments of corporations are negligible, being less than $1,000.

Tools and machinery owned by individuals and used for manufacturing purposes increased from $7,100 to $71,640. A corresponding increase is shown in the value of the output during the year. In 1927 raw materials and manufactured articles were worth $1,522,840 this year, a drop from $1,582,100 in 1927. Machinery used by corporations for manufacturing purposes was valued at $715,140 this year and at $778,720 last year.

Motor Vehicles Lower

The value of motor vehicles decreased $184,100 during the last year. In 1927 the value as shown by the tax returns then was $2,125,110 and this year the value is $1,941,010.

Farm crops decreased more than $100,000 in value during the year. In 1927 crops were worth $205,900. This year their value dropped to $98,750. The poor crops of the summer and fall of 1927, on which returns were made last April, is said to be the reason for the decrease. Farm tools decreased in value from $417,500 to $361,450. Household goods dropped in value from $1,504,050 to $1,453,100.

The number of horses in the county decreased from 5,535 in 1927 to 5,176 in 1928. The value of the animals dropped from $327,530 to $317,200. Columbia St. Collision

Failure to observe the stop sign was said by police this morning to have caused a wreck at the intersection of South Prospect and Columbia st. late Saturday night which resulted in W. C. Cooper, driver of a Ford truck belonging to Fred Bender, plumber, receiving injuries to his left shoulder.

According to the story told police, Mrs. Guy Stoner, East Center st., driving a Ford sedan, was driving east on Columbia st., and failing to observe the stop sign, drove across the intersection, colliding with the Ford truck, which was southbound.

Cooper was thrown against a tree by the force of the collision and in addition to injury to his shoulder and left arm, was badly bruised and cut. Mrs. Stoner was reported to have escaped with minor injuries, although her Ford sedan was wrecked. Cooper was taken to his home by a passing motorist. An x-ray of his shoulder was to be taken this afternoon to determine the extent of his injury.

Passengers Aboard Train Unable To Make Escape in Collision

TAKEN TO HOSPITALS

Accident Occurs at Cortana, California, Where Special Is Making Repairs

San Francisco, July 30—Nearly 50 persons are being treated here today for injuries sustained when the Cascade Limited, crack coast train of the Southern Pacific, crashed into the rear of a special train of the American Bar Association at Cortana, three miles north of Williams, late yesterday. Rounding a curve at a speed estimated at 50 miles an hour, the huge locomotive of the limited clipped into the observation car of the Bar association special, as it stood before the tiny station at Cortana. The Bar association train had been halted for some minor repairs to its locomotive. On the special train were 170 lawyers from all parts of the country with their wives and members of their families. Many were gathered in the observation car at the time of the crash.

No Time to Escape
The towering locomotive of the Cascade came so swiftly and suddenly about the curve, witnesses declared, that there was no time for the passengers on the Bar association special to escape. The huge black bulk of the engine tore into the observation car. The terrific impact flung the locomotive of the Cascade from the rails. From the nearby towns of Arbutch, Williams and Maxwell, fleets of automobiles were quickly despatched to take the injured to nearest hospitals. About 25 were taken to the Arbutch sanitarium. Others were taken to Woodland.

Fifty Hurt in Collision of Elevated Trains
New York, July 30—With many of the 50 injured passengers being cared for in hospitals, railway and city officials today were endeavoring to fix the blame for the collision of two trains of wooden cars on the Sixth av. elevated line at 122nd st. last night. At least six of the victims were injured seriously and the others were bruised and trampled upon in the mad rush of 1,500 panic-stricken passengers to get out of the wrecked cars.

COOLIDGE AT MOULE AFTER SHORT TRIP

Dedicates Memorial to Civil War Hero at Cannon Falls, Minn.

Superior, Wis., July 30—President Coolidge was back at his fishing on the Brule river today after an invasion of Minnesota, where at Cannon Falls yesterday, he dedicated a memorial to Col. William Colville, leader of the famous First Minnesota Volunteers who stemmed the Confederate tide at Gettysburg. With him was Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, but the secretary's presence was not looked upon as having a special significance. Coolidge is on his way to Alaska with the thought the far north country may help him recuperate from a recent illness, and dropped in here for a visit on his way across the country. The president will make his second trip away from the Wisconsin White House this week when, on Thursday he visits the Mesabi iron range in north Minnesota.

TAKEN FOR RIDE

Death of Cleveland Man Investigated by Sheriff

Chagrin Falls, July 30—Sheriff Frank Nelson, of Geauga County today investigated the death of Joseph Szabo, 48, Cleveland, who was found shot to death in a pasture near here late yesterday. Sheriff Nelson declared, after finding and noting the position of the body, he believes Szabo was "taken for a ride" by gangsters, shot to death and placed on the ground with his arms folded across the chest. A note found in Szabo's pocket written in Hungarian, translated read: "If I am found shot don't blame me or my family."

Smith to Ignore Latest Attack of Editor White On Legislative Record

Governor Enjoys Brief Vacation at Hampton Bays; Another Shot at Owens Expected from Nominee; Helps Reporters Write Their Stories

Southampton, N. Y., July 30—Gov. Al Smith has decided to ignore the latest attack made on his legislative record by William Allen White, Kansas editor, but when he returns New York on Wednesday he probably will have something more to say to former U. S. Senator Robert L. Owen, because of the latter's intention to bolt the Democratic party.

The governor is enjoying a brief vacation at Hampton Bays, a few miles west of here, and he made it plain today that he intends to devote all of his time for the next two days to swimming and golf and to forget about national politics.

Recently the governor made a bitter attack upon White because the latter pictured his legislative record as being friendly to the saloon and the liquor traffic. This brought a reply from White but the governor will ignore it.

"Shot" for Owen

When former Senator Owen announced he would not support Smith because of his Tammany affiliations and his weakness, the governor promptly countered with the announcement that four years ago Owen asked him to induce the Tammany delegation at the national convention to support him for presidential candidate.

When the governor was asked if he would comment on White's latest broadside, he replied:

"No, and that also goes for Owen."

Close friends of the governor predicted today, however, that he is loading his political gun and that as soon as he gets back to New York he will take another shot at Owen.

He denied he would confer with farm leaders as soon as he returns to the city.

"I don't know anything about such a conference," he said.

The governor was to play golf at the Shinnecock Hills golf course with his son, Arthur, when the governor said he had not played the Shinnecock course in two years, someone asked him if he considered his golf game had improved in that time.

When White's story

"Off the record," he said, smiling, "it's getting worse every day. But on the record, steady improvement."

With Mrs. Smith and members of their family, the governor went to St. Basil's church, yesterday, a short distance from Hampton Bays.

"I'll write part of your story for you," the governor told reporters. "Take this down."

"When the governor left church he was greeted on the highway by visitors to the summer resorts adjacent to Hampton Bays and by many permanent residents of Long Island who have known the governor and who have seen him going back and forth to church for 20 years.

The governor looked back in the car and asked:

"How is that for reporting?"

Saving Is a Habit

A Good One To Have and Easy To Get Into

Life has been described as a "series of habits."

Reading one's favorite newspaper—eating one's favorite dish—driving to work over a familiar, favored route; all these are evidences of the power of a habit.

There are good habits and bad habits. We should encourage one kind and discourage the other.

Running high among the good habits is that of cutting aside regular sums to build up a substantial savings account.

It's an easy habit to get into and one that pays well.

RUSSIAN MOVIE ACTOR AT 52 SETS HAMMER RECORD

Moscow—A 52-year-old movie actor, Chistiakov, who plays grandfather and cripple roles for the Soviet Kino trust, established a new Soviet hammer throw record against competitors half his age. Chistiakov threw a 15-pound hammer 165 feet in the Moscow district amateur track and field meet at which district entrants to the "Red Olympiad," the Spartan games, were chosen. A question about his eligibility to the international Spartan games has been raised because of his profession. It is claimed that as the games were organized as a sort of workers' Olympiad, Chistiakov, who is not technically a worker, cannot compete.

Three of Marion's Five New Lawyers to Start Practice in Near Future

Plans Announced by Young Men Successful in Recent Bar Examinations; Two Will Enter Partnerships in Established Law Offices

Of the five young Marion men who this morning received official notice of their admission to the bar, three will begin practice here in the near future, one will continue his schooling and one will continue to engage in another profession.

The three who will practice here, according to plans being formulated at the present time, are John Wiedemann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiedemann, 345 Edgewood dr., and Paul F. Spragg, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Spragg, 625 Delaware st. The latter plans, while in the law, to include law practice the coming year in Marion or elsewhere.

Henry A. Mickle, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Mickle, 211 St. James st., contemplates another year of school before beginning the practice of law here.

John T. Smart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smart, 302 Franklin st., while a lawyer by profession, will continue in his present work as a member of the editorial staff of the Cleveland Press.

Plans for Admission

The prospective lawyers are to be formally admitted to the bar in Columbus, Saturday, Aug. 4.

Four of the five young Marion attorneys are graduates of Harding High School. They are John T. Smart, who graduated in 1921, Paul F. Spragg, who graduated in 1922, John Wiedemann, who graduated in 1924 and Henry A. Mickle, who graduated in 1925. Mr. Arter is a graduate of the Crestline high school at Crestline, O., near where he formerly made his home. He completed the course there in 1918.

Mr. Wiedemann and Mr. Arter are the only two of the group who have made definite plans for joining established law firms. Mr. Wiedemann will become associated professionally with his brother, Frank Wiedemann, and Carter Patton in a firm to be known as Wiedemann, Patton & Wiedemann. The elder lawyers operated the firm for the past five years under the name "Wiedemann & Patton. The change will be made next week.

New Partnership

Mr. Arter next week will become the law partner of his father-in-law, Attorney John H. Clark, under whom he received six months of his professional training, several years ago.

Four of the lawyers received a part of their training at the college of law, Ohio Northern university, Ada. They were Mr. Mickle, Mr. Wiedemann, and Mr. Arter, who graduated this spring, and Mr. Spragg. The latter completed his course at the law school of the University of Cincinnati, graduating in June, 1928. He was also a liberal arts student at Western Reserve university, Cleveland, before going to Ada. Mr. Arter also studied a year at Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware.

Mr. Smart studied at Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, at Ohio State university, Columbus, and completed his law course by studying nights this year at the Cleveland Law School.

The five Marion men were among 385 successful applicants to the bar. A total of 221 students failed.

'Youngsters' Would Make Mess of Running World Alone, Henry Ford Says on Birthday

DETROIT, July 30.—Without the guidance of men over 30, the "youngsters" would make a mess of running this old world, Henry Ford indicated today as he celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday by attending to his routine tasks at the Ford Motor Co.

Ford was up early and went for a short walk. Later he met newspapermen making their rounds of his various plants. Ford appeared to be in the best of health and declared he expects to do more in the next five years than in the last 20.

Ford returned to Detroit at midnight Saturday after paying a flying visit in his old friend, Thomas A. Edison. He made the trip by automobile via Delaware Gap, Pa. Ford denied that he was a spectator at the Tunney-Henney fight as reported over the radio.

Do Better Work

"Some men of 65 perhaps should not do too much running and jumping," he said, "but that is no reason why they should not do as much work with the mind as ever—and better work."

"Isn't there an age limit somewhere?" he was asked.

"I haven't found it yet. You take all the experience and judgment of men over 30 out of the world, and there wouldn't be enough left to run it. Youngsters have their place and are necessary, but the experience and judgment of men over 30 are what give purpose and meaning to younger men's efforts."

Ford in wrestling with the problem of increasing the daily production of his new cars. He is employing more men and has the largest payroll in his history.

Ford started newspapermen by declaring that he regards the gigantic surplus of the Ford Motor Co. as simply a public trust which must be put back into the manufacture of something that will help men and women to better and more productive lives.

Doubt Report

This amazing statement of policy was made after one of the newspapermen asked Ford how much money he had lost through the introduction of the new model A.

Model A. It is known that production of the new car is below the money making mark set by Ford when model A was placed on the market.

"Who said I had lost anything?" Ford asked when a newspaperman told him there had been various published estimates of the reduction of the Ford Motor Co. surplus during the past year.

"We can't lose what doesn't belong to us," Ford continued. "The profits we made on 15 million model T cars wasn't our money. The public paid it to make a better automobile. That has always been our policy. The change to the model A just happens to be a bigger illustration of it, that's all. Nothing has happened to the Ford Motor Co. but what has always happened to it. We always plow back our surplus into our service. And we have always had plenty left."

FINAL PERIODS BEGIN AT SUMMER CAMPS

45 Boy Scouts and 28 from V. M. C. A. Enrolled for Closing of Season

EXTINGUISH FLAMES IN S. HIGH ST. HOME AND IN CAR ON N. STATE ST.

Fire believed by Fire McFarland to have been caused by a defective wire, did $150 damage at the home of Walter Ship, 331 South Vine st., Saturday afternoon. The fire started in the attic and when discovered by neighbors had burned through the roof. Elements from the central station responded to a call sent in by members of the family and the blaze was confined to the attic.

At 8:30 o'clock last night flames from the central station were called to the interurban station on North State st., where fire had been discovered beneath the floor of a North State car. The blaze was put out with chemicals after the wiring had been burned off.

ALDERMAN ROBBED

"Stop Light" Thieves Get Cash and Jewelry in Holdup

Chicago, July 30.—"Stop Light" holdup today held up and robbed Alderman Albert Loewer and a party of friends and swamped with over a thousand dollars in cash and jewelry.

The bandits drove their car along side of Loewer's machine and exhibited a police badge demanding to know "what the speed was all about." According to Loewer, one of the stick-up men then pressed a gun to his side and demanded the money and jewelry.

Marion County Taxpayers Allowed Few More Days by Treasurer

A few more days will be allowed late taxpayers to make their June payments, according to James E. Messenger, county treasurer. Late taxes will still be collected while desks in the treasurer's office are checking the tax books, preparatory to turning them over to the county auditor.

Notices have been sent to those who have not paid their personal taxes. Mr. Messenger stated today, in an attempt to clear up a few accounts that have not been settled.

When a man says that he has nothing to say the chances are that he could say a good deal if he wanted to.

SMITH ON DEFENSIVE AFTER C.O.P. ATTACKS

Editor White Again Assails Governor's Assembly Record

New York, July 30.—Faced on the defensive for the first time since their campaign last year under way, the Democratic national strategy board returned to headquarters today to resume its fight with renewed vigor.

A remarkable series of political exchanges last week served to convert the Democratic campaign from an aggressively offensive technique to one almost entirely defensive.

The first open bolt came in the announcement of former Senator Robert L. Owen of California that he would support Herbert Hoover. The resignation of Senator Simmons from the Democratic National committee was a second blow, and William Allen White's vitriolic attack upon Governor Smith's assembly record, was a third.

Against these three wounds, the campaign managers set their victory in Texas, where, in the crucial race for lieutenant governor, Tom Love, violent anti-Smith candidate, was defeated by a large majority.

"The next move is for Governor Smith," White said today. "I am sailing for Europe with Mrs. White on Wednesday. I have prepared the detailed record of Governor Smith in the assembly at Albany covering a period of 12 years. If he elects to challenge that record, I am ready to furnish photographic copies of the pages involved, taken directly from the official journal."

Having revived itself on southern campaign strategy following repeated warnings from southern leaders that the region should not be taken for granted, the Democratic high command plans now to open its speaking campaign in Texas. Senator Joseph T. Robinson, the vice presidential nominee, will begin his first speaking tour at Dallas on Labor Day, under plans already approved by the executive committee.

An attempt to enlist the militant McNary-Hanger farm organizations in the Smith drive will be made this week when George N. Hager, president of the American Council of Agriculture and leader in the corn-belt coalition fight for the twice-rejected equalization tax, confers with the executive committee on Tuesday. Governor Smith, who will spend the last half of this week at headquarters here, will meet Fred Thursday or Friday.

With the announcement today of state finance directors in 23 of the 46 states, the national drive for the $11,500,000 campaign fund was under way.

CRIPPLE EXECUTED

Man Who Killed Doctor for Anger, Dies

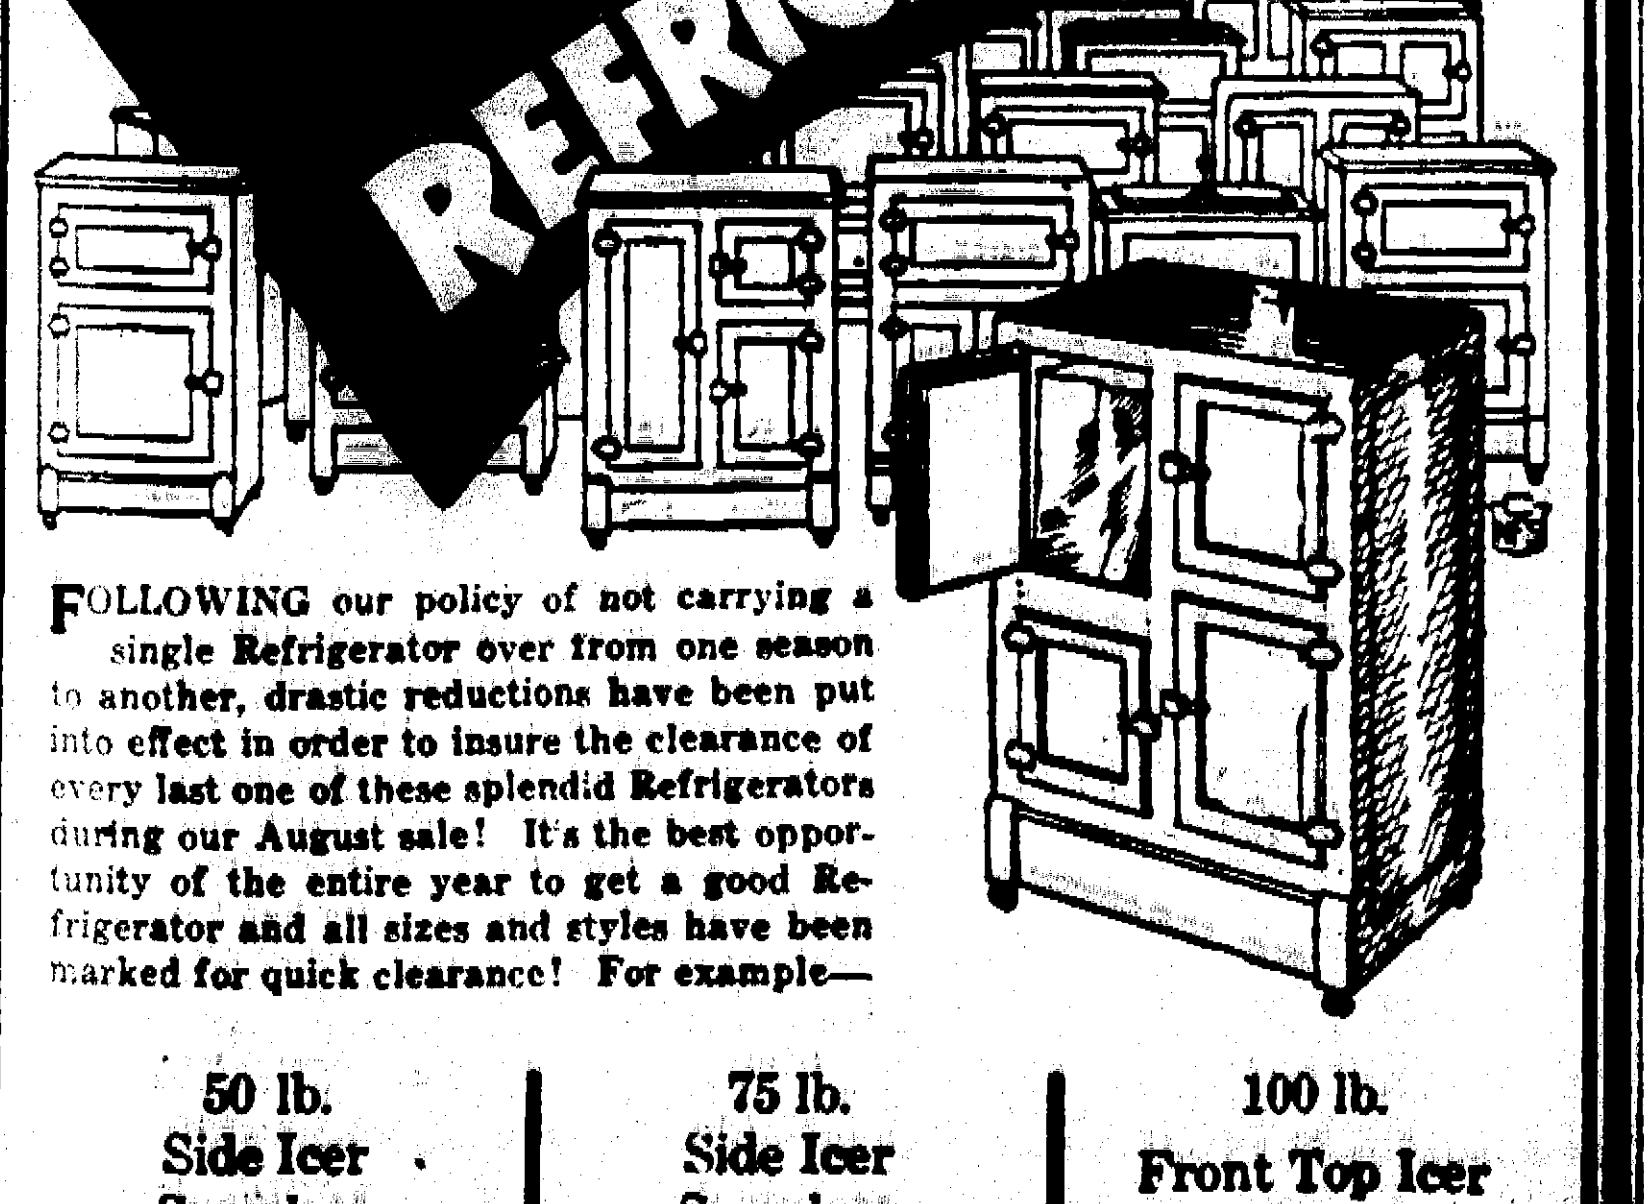

Bellefonte, Pa., July 30.—Calmy and quietly, his face reflecting no emotion, Joseph Kameninski, 20, of Jeannette, looked to his death in the electric chair at the state prison here today, and died for the murder of Dr. Gerald Kelley, whom he believed responsible for the unnecessary amputation of his right leg.

The youthful murderer was declared dead at 7:30 a. m., after two charges were sent crashing through his body. Presided into the electrocution chamber by two priests, Kameninski calmly repeated their prayers as he went to his death. The youth's right leg was amputated after a mine accident, and the loss of his leg was believed to have preyed on his mind until he forced his way into the physician's office and shot him to death.

Daily Proverb—"What is dishonorable is always dangerous."

Men, It Is Time To Rebel.

The paramount question of the moment in New York is whether a man has a right to dress for comfort in hot weather, or for the conventions. It is debated most earnestly by the New York Times, and its readers.

One correspondent says the women have emancipated themselves in the matter of dress, and asks, why not men?

It is a fact that a woman may leave off as much as she pleases and show whatever she pleases and still be considered a lady, but if a man goes into a cafeteria without his coat, or into his office in his shirt sleeves, he is frowned upon and considered an outcast. It's an outrage.

The big-outstanding thing right now is for the men to throw off the shackles of convention and appear in their shirt sleeves whenever they feel like it, regardless of the occasion. It can't be said that a man isn't presentable when he is not wearing a coat. A clean shirt is just as nice looking as a coat—and a lot more comfortable.

How often have you gone into a theater, or a store, or the bank—anywhere, in fact—and have seen women who looked as cool as the proverbial cucumber? And isn't it a fact that these women wore sleeveless dresses, rolled stockings and little or nothing between their outer garment and themselves? Right! And yet the man behind the counter, or the man in the adjoining seat at the theater is encased in a hot-looking and hot-feeling coat, slowly torturing himself because he lacked the nerve to remove the garment.

Come on, men, and let's get rid of the coats, and go in for more creature comfort.

Don't Ruin a Business Man's Day.

Are you offended when you are given little more than a hearty greeting, calling at the office of a friend?

You feel he should give you a little time. Show greater evidence of pleasure because of your visit.

Somewhat you can not convince yourself that the feeling of friendship, of which he once gave evidence, has not cooled off a bit.

Well, maybe it has.

But more than likely he has certain work to get out before the close of the day, work that might keep others overtime if he does not attend to it.

If you have the right slant on your own work you ought to realize that a man in a responsible position has about all he can do during working hours.

No allowance is made for visiting.

If it is done, it means faster work later, or killing the day's schedule.

The small town person has usually the least regard for and appreciation of, a busy man's position.

He can not understand why a few moments of time should interfere appreciably with a day's schedule.

His working hours are less crowded than those of the busy city man.

A Village on Its Teen.

A Columbus newspaper pays compliment to Marysville for the Union county village's enterprise in placing a sign on the roof of one of its most prominent buildings: "This is Marysville."

The editorial adds that it would be no surprise to hear "that Marysville had established a first class municipal airport and had been made the air center of central Ohio before Columbus has awakened to the possibilities such an enterprise holds."

In view of Marion's need of an airport we believe that this statement needs no comment.

The Crops Hang.

Why rob yourself of the joy of life by always wishing for something better than you have?

Get full pleasure out of what you can afford.

If you have a cheap car, don't bemoan the fact and curse the thing because it will not do what a better and more expensive car will do.

You take away the joy of the family during your trips because you are continually complaining about your car.

What if the other fellow with a high powered car can make the grade on high while you must shift to second?

It is not much of a job to change gears, is it?

You may not have the same comfort and general peace of mind, but, if your car is the best that you can afford, why grumble about it?

Be happy in the thought that you can drive as good a car as you have.

Isn't it better to ride in a car, the payments on which you can meet, than to possess a better one that is robbing you of all other kinds of pleasure in order to meet payments on it?

Freedom from disturbing thoughts is worth $100.

A week's news reveals life as it is, joys and sorrows, triumphs and defeats. Last Monday witnessed the recounting of the heaviest drowning toll of the summer season with more than a score of lives lost in Ohio, two of them in the vicinity of Marion. They illustrated the need for swimming and life-saving instruction. The second man in the history of the county to be sentenced to die in the electric chair for murder heard the heavy sentence from the lips of the judge who tried him. Everett Koon, facing the chair, doesn't seem concerned with the efforts being made by his counsel to save him, reporters say. The Noble expedition becomes more and more of a tragedy. Ugly rumors. And Noble returns to find himself greeted not by cheers, but by instructions and ill-feeling.

Mears and Collier relegate Jules Verne to a back seat as they spin around the world in twenty-three days. And young Bob Owens—only fifteen—wins his golf club automatically well to win the President's Cup tournament at the Marion Country club. If he keeps up that pace he ought to carve a niche for himself in golf fields larger than Marion. It's hard to suit all of the people, well-nigh impossible. City council announces new stop streets and motorists who drive on Columbus street set up a howl. It is hard to educate people to do something different. For years they have been driving up and down east Church street without stopping at Mt. Vernon avenue. Now stop signs mark the junction of Church, Vine and Mt. Vernon a five-way stop and not more than one out of ten motorists pay any heed to the signs.

It is good to learn that more streets are to be paved in the business district. The good appearance of a business district is one of the best advertisements of a city. Thousands come to Marion each year to see the Harding Memorial and the city should see to it that each visitor goes away with a good impression of us. Just consider the opportunities in the way of impressing visitors. In four weeks motorists from forty-seven of the forty-eight states of the union stopped in Marion. Pity the election board and newspaper workers in the coming primary. Sixty-five seek office in Marion county and sixty-four want state and senatorial offices. Much more reason why voters should carefully scrutinize candidates before marking their ballots August 14.

Beag, Republican gubernatorial candidate, speaks here today through the combined efforts of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. There is a thought: How much civic good could be accomplished by the combined efforts of these clubs? Prohibition becomes more and more of an issue in the presidential campaign as Hoover accepts the Smith challenge and will go forth as a dry candidate. Politics occupies much white space in the newspapers, but there is other news. For instance, imagine several carloads of cattle breaking loose in Kansas City and going through windows and parading about hotel lobbies. And Ohio river boats drifting back to the romantic racing days. A Marion man makes a round trip to Chicago in twenty-four hours using automobile and airplane. That's a novelty now. It won't be one of these days. And if Marion has an airport it will place the city in a much more advantageous position to get new business. Gene Tunney, at this writing, is ready to announce his retirement from the ring. He has close to $2,000,000. When you think of it Tunney is different from the average chap in the fight game. The one thing that so disgusts many people about the business of professional boxing is the "beefing" when a fight is over. Honey says he could have gone on had not Gene stuck his thumb in his—Tunney's—eye. And Richard, after making thousands and thousands of dollars in past events, now threatens to stop further broadcasting of fights because his poor match of Thursday night forced him in to the "red."

And in the meantime President Coolidge announces he will go to Yellowstone National park in August. Watch the tourists make for the park now. We've got a few gorges in Marion if any one is interested. One spreads between and outside the city street car tracks in front of the Epworth M. E. church parsonage in east Center street and another is in front of the C. D. & M. station in State street. Not only are they unsightly but they are dangerous.

The Gunpowder Plot.

BY TEMPLE MANNING.

"Remember, remember
The fifth of November,
The gunpowder treason and plot;
There is no reason
Why the gunpowder treason
Should ever be forgot!"

On November 5, 1605, a great gunpowder plot was discovered in England. Roughly, under the leadership of Guy Fawkes, a group of malcontents planned to blow up the Parliament house and destroy the city of London, in revolt against the Protestants. The plot was wrongly attributed to the entire Catholic party, but it was circumvented and the conspirators, including Guy Fawkes, were tried and executed.

Ever since, November 5 has been celebrated in England as Guy Fawkes day.

A special service for the day was included in the English book of common prayer, although today this has been abolished. But even to this day, at the opening of the house of parliament the initial ceremony includes the march of the yeoman of the guards through the cellars of the houses in search of gunpowder. And, of course, the burning of Guy Fawkes in effigy is a pastime that is celebrated on every street corner, and in all the schools.

Bacteria in Drinking Water.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Just because the baby drinks milk is no reason why it needs no water. As a matter of fact its digestion can not be perfect without water. This tiny morsel of humanity needs water to dissolve the wastes and carry away the poisons of the body. For health's sake it must have an abundance of water.

Everybody knows how necessary it is that the water supply should be pure. No city is considered a civilized community unless it has an abundant water supply. The highest progress the city is making in the protection of health is proven by the care given to securing a supply of pure water. In most communities it is safe for grown-ups to make use of the city water for drinking purposes.

But what is true of adults is not true of babies. The digestive processes of infants are so delicate that they are more easily disturbed than adults are. It is not safe to give to tiny babies water which the adult may safely drink. The city water may be quite good enough and safe enough for us, but it will probably be entirely unsuited for the infant.

I want you to appreciate this because it involves a lot of trouble to prepare the drinking water for an infant. It must be boiled and then cooled and kept in a perfectly sanitary place in order to have it safe. This is true, you know, of all foods and beverages given to a baby. Boiling kills the germs, so if the foods and beverages are exposed to intense heat the dangerous elements they contain are destroyed.

Regardless of all the care given to the water supply, most drinking water is more or less contaminated. It may contain the colon bacillus. This is a germ which is capable of producing diarrhea, and an infant must not be exposed to this danger. Being a mother is an exacting job. It requires many sacrifices and much time. It is time well spent, however, because there is no greater reward than to have this precious life developed under the observation and care of the parent.

I can give you no better advice at this season of the year than to make sure that every drop of water given to the baby is water which has been boiled and is free from the danger of carrying the germs of disease.

It is only a little while ago that I told you about this, but I want to impress upon you once more the significance of the baby's supply of drinking water.

TRAFFIC AND STOP STREETS.

Editor Star: This is a reasonably free—and easy—country, and we are guaranteed the right of free speech. Likewise we are permitted to criticize our officials without being thrown in jail.

We will identify ourselves as being one of the many automobile drivers running at large today who frequently get in a big rush to get—no place in particular, but nevertheless in a terrible hurry to get there—wherever "there" is.

Now let's consider the small post—(excuse us—stop signs)—recently put up on Columbus street. Can you enlighten us, Mr. Editor, the line of reasoning followed in making everything crossing Columbus street main thoroughfare? We've almost worried ourselves sick and worn out a gross of lead pencils in trying to dope this thing out. Consider: Columbus street serves as a highway to quite a goodly portion of Marion coming off of Lyndale, Bennett, Duquesne, etc. Where in the dickens do the city fathers want these people to go? Looks like they weren't wanted up town. Sure they may come jumping or jogging up Columbus or go over to Church street, which is already worn out or they may wait until Center is opened up, but under no circumstances must they come to town via Columbus street.

Again how about such streets as Olney, Blaine and right up to Prospect possibly excepting Pearl. They don't start any place nor end any place—side streets in the meaning of traffic regulations if we understand such things.

Here we have Columbus street newly surfaced and one admirably located to relieve the pressure on Church but watch 'em go to Church street—and finish its destruction. Again we still believe the flow of traffic is east to west and vice versa. A case in point. Here are three machines stopped on Columbus at Windsor for instance while one machine comes across the intersection. Is that improving traffic conditions? We have no objections to the four-way stop at certain intersections but it's too much for us—making through streets of Olney, etc. Another thing. In the old days we had six stumps in the city adorned with one lantern each, dignified with the name of stop and go sign. Somehow or other we couldn't burn these lights only about half the time. Now we have four lanterns each on six different corners and we can burn them all day—well into the night and on Sundays. What causes that?

Considering Columbus street, again we can't help but think that a gross error of judgment has been perpetrated on the unsuspecting folks so located that Columbus street would be of material benefit to it if they could use it.

D. M. Bigger, 232 Bellefontaine avenue.

ANOTHER ON COLUMBIA STREET.

Editor Star: Have been wondering why Columbus street was made a stop street. Was it to save the street or was it to cause more traffic on Church and Center streets through the congested part of the city? If to save the street, gates would have been much more effective. For example, since stops between Hocking Valley railroad and High street on Columbus, while on Center and Church we can travel the same distance with three stops. Had they been half fair they would have given Columbus street right-of-way over Boulevard, Olney, Blaine, Windsor and Pearl, with a stop at Prospect, Main and State. This then would have given people traveling north or south on the above named streets from Church to Bellefontaine with one stop; which would be almost equal to the distance allowed on Columbus street. It is true that there has been a few accidents on this street but I think the same people would have accidents on any street; at any rate Columbus street sure should be a nice quiet street now. No doubt it did make people living on Columbus street nervous to see so many autos up and down the street for it has been years since they saw any machine on the street except those that had to go there before the street was repaired. But of course they paid for it and do not want non-residents wearing it out.

Dinner Stories.

"Let me see," mused the hostess, meeting a man she could not immediately identify at a large party. "We've met before, of course?"

"I'm not certain," said the guest, who happened to be a chiropractor. "Would you mind turning your back on me a minute?"

"Do you believe in the direct use of money in politics?"

"Certainly not," answered Senator Borah.

"Only an amateur attempts it nowadays."

"A patient public," said Mr. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "trained to proper applause frequently appears in an effort to entertain an orator."

"I can't believe in ghosts," said Uncle Eben. "What I could, I'd be a heap safer in the automobile and airplane."

Daughter, gazing into the surf—"What are the wild waves saying?"

Mother—"Don't listen, child. If they're as wild as they look, I'm sure it isn't anything very nice."

BY GARRETT P. BENTLEY.

"A ball pitcher throws a ball to batter; batter bats naturally at ball and hits same, but a great part of ball being delivered slowly, or knuckled ball, batter cannot seem to drive ball very far. Now, another time, pitcher throws a fast ball and batter hits with the same force, but the ball travels very much farther than in first instance. Can you give a plain explanation why this is so? Also, can a pitcher actually cause a ball to curve in its flight? If so, what takes place in relation to the ball and pitcher's hand?—E. L. Hearn, Bronx.

Your statement of the problem of the slow ball and fast ball itself almost answers the question. You say that "on account" of the first ball being delivered slowly the batter cannot drive it as far as he drives the second ball delivered with greater speed. Just so. But then you fail to draw the inference from these plain facts.

The energy which the pitcher gives to the ball combines with the energy furnished by the batter to produce the speed with which the ball leaves the bat.

The momentum with which the ball flies to the plate is, to a large degree, restored by its rebound from the bat. It is a case of elastic impact. If the ball were entirely inelastic its impact would subtract from the momentum of the bat the amount of the ball's own momentum, and the ball would fall at the batter's feet. In such case the higher the speed with which it was pitched the greater would be its arresting effect upon the bat. But, possessing elasticity, the ball rebounds from the bat with a certain velocity, to which is added the effect of the force imparted by the batter.

Suppose the ball were thrown against a solid wall; it would return with a speed varying in accordance with that at which it had been pitched. Then suppose the wall suddenly to start at a high speed to meet the ball at impact; the return speed of the ball would be greater than when the wall simply remained immovable to receive the blow. If I understand baseball vernacular correctly, a "bunted" ball is one which the batter simply arrests with his bat without striking, and the ball rebounds by its own reversed energy, at a relatively slow speed.

As to pitching curves, a skillful pitcher can cause a ball to curve upward or downward, to right or left, in accordance with the sense of the twist he gives to the ball about its own axis as it leaves his fingers. The practical production of this remarkable effect is the art of the pitcher, which he may not be able to explain otherwise than by example.—Copyright, 1923, International Feature Service, Inc.

The mechanical theory of the machine is to make it so sensitive to the pull of gravity that it will be affected by the structure of the earth beneath it.

A device for electrocuting flies has been patented. The flies are attracted by an electric lamp inside a cage, beneath which is a trap baited with something that appeals to their appetites. They are then either electrically coming into contact with a solenoid wire or stunned so that they fall into the trap, from which they can not escape.

Foreign languages, card games and so on can now be taught by a mechanical tutor. All that is necessary to do with this device is to place an arm with a squared indicator over the line of pictures illustrating whatever game one wants to learn, and then turn on the power. A synchronizing device makes it possible for the points of the game to be explained by photograph as each picture comes to view.

Ohio Engineers to Hold Second Annual Meeting at Hotel Harding, Oct. 31

All Sections of State To Be Represented at Conference on Sewage Treatment; Visit to Local Plant and Talk by Superintendent Included in Program

Between 50 and 75 engineers from all parts of the state are expected to attend the second annual Ohio conference on sewage treatment to be held at the Harding Hotel on Oct. 31. It was announced today by Floyd Browne, superintendent and chemist of the city sewage disposal plant.

Tentative plans to hold the conference in this city were made at the first annual meeting held at the Winthrop hotel in Cleveland last year and at a meeting of the executive committee in Columbus, April 15, definite arrangements were made.

A tentative program outlined at the first meeting provides for an all day session to be featured by a visit to the sewage disposal plant late in the afternoon. Addresses of the morning session, which will open at 9 o'clock, will be given by R. C. Sweeney, assistant engineer of the state department of health, who will talk on "Operating the Small Sewage Treatment Plant," and by Charles C. Johnson, superintendent of the city sewage disposal plant, who will take the subject of his talk, "Revenue from Sludge Disposal."

A discussion of the two addresses will be led by L. T. Fawcett, county sanitary engineer of Mahoning county, and by A. B. Hess, superintendent of the disposal plant at Alliance. The morning session will close with a business meeting.

The afternoon session will open with a topical discussion of the Ohio sewerage law. "Experiences in Ohio in Financing Sewage Treatment Operation," by George S. Irwin, service director of Delaware, W. W. Morehouse, service director of Dayton and F. W. Jones, sanitary chemist for George B. Gascoigne, of Cleveland.

An address will also be given at the afternoon session by Superintendent Browne of the Marion plant, who will talk on the operation of the plant here. Mr. Browne's talk will be followed by a round table discussion and the conference will close with the election of officers.

From this city the visitors on the following day will go to Lima to attend the annual Ohio conference on water purifications to be held in that city on Nov. 1 and 2.

The conference was brought to this city through the efforts of Mr. Browne, who is a member of the executive committee.

FIRE LOSS OF $100,000 SUSTAINED IN CHARDON

Chardon, July 26.—The Asplon Basket Co. plant, the only manufacturing industry in this city, was almost a result of a smoldering ruin today as the result of a fire yesterday causing an estimate loss of $100,000 and throwing 75 men out of employment. Plans were made for initiation ceremonies Saturday, Aug. 11, at a meeting of members of Bethel No. 2, Job's Daughters, Saturday afternoon at Masonic temple.

Meditations OF A Married Woman

BY HELEN ROWLAND

FIFTY-FIFTY MARRIAGE

EVERY now and then, some man rises up in court and protests violently that his wife "makes him wash the dishes," for which indignity he demands a divorce.

All of which goes to prove that the beautiful theory of the "fifty-fifty" marriage does not work except in the imagination. It is still just a sweet dream!

The modern wife may help bring home the bacon and bear half the household expenses, but where will any woman find a man who will do half the marketing, half the planning and half the worrying when the cook is late?

She may cheerfully pay half the bills for the imported china, the drawing-room curtains, and the table linen—but what man ever lay awake nights figuring out how to place the furniture, or insisted on ironing the embroidered dollies with his own fair hands?

When a man actually takes care of his OWN clothes, counts his own laundry, and picks up his own shoes, half the neighbors applaud him as a world-wonder, and the other half secretly despise him as a "henpecked husband."

He, himself, feels that he is something between a martyr and a mollycoddle. He doesn't know whether he should be wearing a halo, a gold medal or a fool's cap.

A normal man never asks, "Have you seen my hat?" He asks, "Where'd you PUT my hat?"

He doesn't inquire thoughtfully, "What shall we have for dinner today?" He demands, royally, "Well, what've we GOT for dinner?"

He never suggests sweetly, "Come, let's put up the new curtains, dear."

He groans, "Have I GOTTA put up those curtains?"

When he wants to sleep late on Sundays, mornings, it's "THIS house"; but when the furnace won't work, it's "Why do you keep YOUR house so cold?"

Man has escaped all the soul-harrowing, little domestic responsibilities ever since Eve furnished the first meal. And he will never be as stupid as to take them on himself voluntarily!

And even when one of them DOES try it, he usually makes such a muddle of it that a woman is only too glad to hand him his hat and his golf clubs and tell him to "run out and play" while she straightens things out.

Of course, every successful marriage is a Fifty-Fifty Marriage in the sense that it is perfect TEAMWORK. But until the Lord changes masculine human nature, the happiest marriages will be those in which the man does the heavy pulling, and the woman does the worrying, the planning and the DISH-WASHING!
